Dig This!

With yard work, gardening, and spring cleaning now on the horizon, Dig It Handwear introduces a revolutionary new garden/utility glove.

Manufactured from recycled materials, Dig It Handwear has an interior reinforced pillow top that prevents the nail from coming in direct contact with the glove, and the double protective layer and breathable fabric provides protection from the elements.

What's unique about Dig It Handwear is that the hand is protected from the inside of the glove – not by a rubber coating on the outside. It is the first glove designed to protect your hands and nails while allowing you good dexterity.

Available in four sizes, this stylish, fitted glove is distributed through select retail partners and online at digithandwear.com
